And eyes reflections of heaven's own blue; He crossed in the twilight grey and cold, And the pale mist hid him from mortal view; We saw not the angels who met him there, The gates of the city we could not see-Over the river, over the river, My brother stands waiting to welcome me!

Over the river the boatman pale Carried another, the household pet; Her brown carls waved in the gentle gale-Darling Minnie! I see her yet. She careased on her bosom her dimpled hands,

And fearlessly entered the phantom bark, We felt it glide from the silver strand, And all our sunshine grew strangely dark; We know she is safe on the further side, Where all the ransomed and angels be-Over the river, the mystic river, My childhood's idel is waiting for me.

For none return from these quiet shores, Who cross with the boatman cold and pale; We hear the dip of the golden cars, And catch a gleam of the snowy sail; And lot they have passed from our yearning

They crossed the stream and are gone for aye; We may not sunder the vail apart That hides from our vision the gates of day; We only know that their barks no more May sail with us o'er life's stormy sea-Yet somewhere, I know, on the unseen shore They watch, and becken, and wait for me.

And I set and think when the sunset's gold Is flushing river and hill and shore, I shall one day stand by the water cold And list for the sound of the boatman's oar; I shall watch for a gleam of the flappidg sall— I shall hear the boat as it gains the strand; I shall pass from the sight with boatman pale, To the better shore of the spirit land.

I shall know the loved who have gone before And joyfully sweet will the meeting be, When over the river, the peaceful river, The Angel of Death shall carry me.

Bafe Conduct Given to Hunter-Peace

WASHINGTON, April 10. -Reliable information has been received from a gentleman who left Richmond yesterday, that Gen. Shepley, by order of the President, has given safe conduct to Senator Hunter to come and go from that city. He is supposed to be on his estate in Essex county, fifty miles from Richmond.

There were no prayers offered in the churches yesterday for the President, and of course none for the Southern Confederacy. The citizens, generally, regard the war as over, and further resistance, therefore, as unwise.

The Richmond Whig of Saturday says: The statement that there would be a Teas, meeting last evening of such members of the Virginia Legislature as still remained in the city, was strictly correct. There was no meeting of the Legislature or others, but simply an informal conference and consultation of private individuals, among whom were members of the Legislature. The motive of these gentlemen in coming together was to hear from Judge Campbell the terms upon which President Lincoln had expressed himself as willing that Virginia might return to the Union, and Messrs. J. R. Anderson, H. W. Thomas were appointed a committee to inform the Legislature and Governor Smith of President Lincoln's terms, and Judge Campbell was requested to accompany the committee, who were to leave the city as soon as passports could be procured. It was said to be probable that they would get off this morning. We prefer not to state our understanding of President Lincoln's terms, as our information on that head is not official. The only information received in Washington of the President's proposition is that it was of a very liberal character.

The Dictator and the Navy Depart-

We find in the Boston Bulletin of April 1st, the following statement in regard to Capt. Ericsson's steamer Dictator :

THE DICTATOR ONCE MORE. This noted iron-clad which was designed to be a sea-going vessel of high speed-the contract rate, we understand, was sixteen knots-had to be towed from Fortress Monroe to New York. We noticed in a New York paper that she went twelve knots, but how long was not reported. This was no doubt designed to make the public believe that her trip was entirely successful; but we saw no that report she broke her shaft, which is twenty-one inches diameter, that she consumed sixteen barrels of oil, four barrels of tallow, and a large amount of black lead to keep her joints limber, besides having a stream of fresh water playing upon the bearings all the time, nor that her shaft used the bearings up into shavings. We understand that she has broken two shafts, and is now having a third made. If these statements, which have been made to us, are correct, we should like to know why they were not reported in the New York papers upon her arrival there? The public wants light concerning the extra bills upon this ship since she passed into the hands of the Government. The gentleman from whom he obtained the foregoing facts says that the Navy Department is in no way responsible for the performance of this expensive ship. Now the question arises-who is responsible?

Wright, on the contrary, was anything else but a tectotaller. At a dinner at which a great many members of the bar were prescut, a slightly inebriated individual arose, and offered the following toast:—" Here's to the two greatest men of the State-Reuben Walworth and Silas Wright, who between them drink more brandy and water than any one else in the United States! This complement the Chancellor thought a rather doubtful one.

A gentleman sat down to write a deed, and "Knew one woman by these presents."
"Tou are wrong," said a friend, "it should
